Truro Running Club donates £1,900 to local charities

Following the success of the Charles Stanley City of Truro Half Marathon last September and the long established New Year's Day Brown Willy Run, the organiser, Truro Running Club has been able to donate a total of £1,900 to its chosen local charities.

The British Heart Foundation received £800 which will be contributed to its Mending Broken Hearts Campaign; Cornwall Hospice Care received £1,100 to be used for adult hospice care in Cornwall.

Keith Wotton, Chairman of Truro Running Club: "We are delighted that the Half Marathon and the Brown Willy Run have been so popular and are pleased to make contributions to such worthy causes. I am grateful to our sponsor as well as all the Club members and individuals who worked so hard to make these events worthwhile."

Jeremy Sharp, Branch Manager of Charles Stanley Truro added: "It has been an absolute pleasure to have been involved with the Half Marathon from start to finish. I participated in last year's race and the feedback has been entirely positive. We are honoured to be associated with the Truro Half Marathon and look forward to sponsoring the event again this September."
